

Working With The Inner Child

A Key to Understanding Destiny

A workshop with:

Dr. Susanne Hofmeister, anthroposophic physician, biography worker, coach and author.

Karin Jarman, Art Therapist HCPC, supervisor and trainer.

Public Lecture :

Friday 19th June 20 19:30 to 21:00

Workshop:

Sat 20th June 9:00 to 17:30

Sunday 21st June 9:00 to 17:30

Venue: The Field Centre, Tiltups
End, Bath Road, Nailsworth, Glos
GL6 0QE

Fee:

Earlybird (before 15th May) £140

Otherwise £175 Includes public talk, refreshments, lunches and art materials.

Booking Info:

Nicole Weinberger

To find our navigation through life it helps to understand the deep connection between our childhood and adult life. Finding inner peace with the issues of our childhood empowers us to respond to our future destiny call and to discover the meaning in our life story. We begin to experience ourselves as an artist shaping the raw material of our life in relation to 'who I am and who I wish to become'.

The workshop will include short, succinct talks on the anthroposophical understanding of the human being, transactional analysis, biographical laws, artistic and biographical exercises. We will also work in pairs and small groups – all of which aim to foster new awareness and understanding, integration, self-forgiveness and self-development and deep interest in the other.

Karin Jarman will facilitate a colour experience within an artistic process in connection with Susanna's rendering of the Inner Child work to awaken a connection with the world of colour being related to the world of our feelings and emotions.